

NOTES

Highlights of the ASGE postgraduate course
&
Colonoscopy Masterclass

27 - 28 August 2018

Korle-Bu Teaching Hospital

Accra, Ghana

PROGRAMME

Secretariat
Karin Fenton
GIT Clinic, Groote Schuur Hospital
Tel: 021 404 3062
Fax: 021 447 0582
Karin.fenton@uct.ac.za
SAGES Secretariat
www.sages.co.za
Gastro Foundation Secretariat
www.gastrofoundation.co.za

In partnership with:
OLYMPUS

GASTRO FOUNDATION FACULTY

Professor Chris Kassianides

Following his graduation in 1979 from the University of the Witwatersrand Medical School in Johannesburg South Africa he completed his fellowship with the College of Physicians and in 1986 joined the Liver Unit of the National Institutes of Health in Washington DC where he spent a number of years researching the antiviral therapy of the hepatitis B and C viruses. This was followed by GI Fellowships at Georgetown University in Washington DC and Cornell Hospital in New York City. In 1990 he joined the Prince of Wales hospital in Hong Kong as a Visiting Lecturer and returned to South Africa in 1991. He is presently a Gastroenterologist in private practice in Johannesburg. He is actively involved in the CME of GI/Hepatology fellows and gastroenterologists and hepatologists in private practice both in SA and SSA. He is founder and Chairman of the Gastroenterology Foundation of SSA and founder and Co Chairman of GHASSA (Gastroenterology and Hepatology Association of SSA) and is a member of SAGES council. In 2018 he was awarded a Visiting Associate Professorship from the University of Cape Town.

Professor Eduard Jonas

Eduard Jonas underwent his pre-graduate training at the University of Pretoria, South Africa obtaining a MBChB in 1985. He did his surgical training at the University of Stellenbosch and became a Fellow of the South African College of Surgeons in 1995 and obtained a MMed in general surgery. He served as consultant surgeon in the Upper Gastrointestinal Service of the Department of General Surgery at Tygerberg hospital before taking up an endoscopy fellowship position at Karolinska University Hospital, Stocholm, Sweden in 1997. He obtained a PhD from the Karolinska Institute in 2002 with a thesis on Imaging-based Dynamic Liver Testing. He was affiliated to the Karolinska Institute as associate professor and held several clinical positions in Karolinska Institute affiliated hospitals, including Head of Endoscopy at Danderyd Hospital and senior consultant in the Hepato-pancreato-biliary service of Karolinska University Hospital. Since 2015 he is Head of Surgical Gastroenterology / Hepatopancreatobiliary Unit at the University of Cape Town and Groote Schuur Hospital.

Emeritus Professor Sandie Thomson

Emeritus Professor and Head of the Division of Gastroenterology, University of Cape Town, since January 2011. Prof Thomson completed his undergraduate training at Aberdeen University, Scotland followed by General Surgery training in the Royal Air Force whilst on a short service commission and later at Aberdeen University. He spent two years as Fellow in Surgical Nutrition at Harvard and was awarded ChM thesis on indirect Calorimetry in surgical patients.

A surgical appointment at the University of Natal followed and he spent the next twenty-two years at this institution working in its affiliated teaching hospitals, initially conducting research in trauma and subsequently in surgical aspects of gastroenterology. He established a Surgical Gastroenterology Unit at the Now

University of KwaZulu-Natal in 2005 and continued to develop sub-specialty surgery and the infrastructure to support it.

Prof Thomson has special expertise in laparoscopic and flexible endoscopy in particular ERCP with periods of specialised training at Cape Town and at Duke University during an American College of Surgeons International Scholarship in 1993. Previous appointments at UKZN: Academic Head Surgical Gastroenterology UKZN 2006. Professor of Surgery, Nelson R Mandela School of Medicine, College of Health Sciences, UKZN. 2002 Principal Specialist, HOD, Addington Hospital UKZN, 1999. Associate Professor, Senior Consultant Surgeon, Addington Hospital, UKZN 1993. Specialist and Senior Specialist Surgeon 1987-1993 King Edward VII Hospital, UN. Prof Thomson is involved in the administration of postgraduate research and acts as an external examiner. He is a Past President of SASES, SRS, SAGES, WGO Tele-education project leader, College of Surgeons of the CMSA; Examiner, Council Member, Past Secretary and Senator.

PROGRAMME

Monday 27 August 2018 - Highlights of the ASGE postgraduate course

08.00 - 8.30	Registration
08.30 - 8.40	Welcome/Introductions - Dr Victor Etwire Introduction - Prof Chris Kassianides
08.40 - 8.55	Ergonomics and safety of the working space
08.55 - 9.15	Indications and preparation for UGI endoscopy - Dr Kenneth Tachi
09.15 - 9.30	Standardised endoscopic reporting - Dr Amoako Duah
09.30 - 09.50	Blood thinners, bleeding and hemostasis : Tools for success
09.50 - 10.10	Best practices in upper GI bleeding
10.10 - 10.30	Gastric and duodenal polyps
10.30 - 11.00	Snack
11.00 - 13.00	Hands on practice
13.00 - 13.45	Lunch
13.45 - 14.05	Endoscopic therapy for Barretts's optimizing therapy, minimizing recurrence
14.05 - 14.25	Taming the defiant polyp : pearls and pitfalls
14.25 - 16.30	Hands on
16.30	Close

Tuesday 28 August 2018 - Colonoscopy Masterclass

08.30 - 08.50	Anatomy of the colon
08.50 - 09.10	Bowel preparation
09.10 - 09.30	Premedication and medication during colonoscopy
09.30 - 09.50	Colonoscopy insertion technique Part 1
09.50 - 10.10	Colonoscopy insertion technique Part 2
10.10 - 10.40	Snack
10.40 - 13.00	Hands on session - Animal lab for beginners - Endoscopy unit
13.00 - 13.45	Lunch
13.45 - 14.05	Strategies for dealing with the patient's pain during colonoscopy
14.05 - 14.20	Colonoscopy withdrawal technique Part 1
14.20 - 14.40	Colonoscopy withdrawal technique Part 2
14.40 - 15.00	When is colonoscopy successful?
15.00 - 15.20	Factors affecting patients well-being at the time of colonoscopy
15.20 - 17.00	Hands on